First Version - Living Document
As part of the European Commission Gender Equality Strategy for 2020-2025, having a Gender Equality Plan (GEP) in place have become an eligibility criterion for organisations to participate in Horizon Europe projects.

The presented GEP is adapted to the current circumstances of LifeWatch ERIC and will evolve on an annual basis as required.

Once approved by the General Assembly (GA), it will comply with the four mandatory process-related requirements set by the European Commission:

1. Be a public document;
2. Have dedicated resources;
3. Include data collection and monitoring processes;
4. Involve training.

In addition to these requirements, it includes measures from the five recommended content-related (thematic areas) that organisations can consider in their GEP:

1. Work-life balance and organisational culture;
2. Gender balance in leadership and decision-making;
3. Gender equality in recruitment and career progression;
4. Integration of the gender dimension into research and teaching content;
5. Measures against gender-based violence, including sexual harassment.

1. Introduction

Gender equality benefits research and innovation (R&I) by improving the quality and relevance of the R&I process, as well as attracting and retaining more talent, and ensuring that everyone, regardless of their gender, can maximize their potential.

As a result, LifeWatch ERIC has embedded gender equality principles into its organisational culture.

The LifeWatch Gender Equality Plan is more than merely balancing staff gender. It is also about describing a set of commitments and actions aiming to promote gender equality in LifeWatch ERIC through institutional and cultural change.

This Gender Equality Plan contains objectives from the 5 fields suggested by the European Commission ("EC (2021) Horizon Europe Guidance on Gender Equality Plans"). These recommendations have been adjusted to match the current circumstances of LifeWatch ERIC and will be adapted to the evolution of the LifeWatch Research Infrastructure as an Organisation.

2. Definition and scope

In most countries and institutions across Europe, "gender statistics" are collected according to biological sex at birth, usually in a binary fashion (female, male) and, more rarely introducing the intersex category. In an increasing number of countries and organisations, however, data is being collected according to gender identity, with usually at least three categories being considered: woman, man, and non-binary (gender-diverse).

In order to follow the evolution of practice on this topic, LifeWatch ERIC’s approach to gender equality is not limited to balancing a gender distribution but to advancing gender identity equity and inclusion on a gender-diverse basis.

4. Monitoring and reporting

LifeWatch ERIC’s Executive Board shall create the structure and process to monitor progress towards gender equality in connection with all the above-mentioned objectives on an annual basis, focusing particularly on the changes required to promote future developments involving equality and non-discrimination principles.

Additional objectives and targets on gender equality (or other types of inclusiveness) will be proposed based on availability of data.

The data collected in the framework of the Gender Equality Plan monitoring process will be made publicly available, as part of the Annual Activities Reports.

5. Responsibilities

The Executive Board is responsible for the implementation of the Gender Equality Plan.
